

The preliminary site plan was approved last September with the full set of construction plans approved in June of this year. An extension of preliminary site plan is being required so construction on the development can proceed.

