

Picture of Campsite A, Stage & Bathroom Area, and Campsite B

The red areas denote possible new Restroom Facility Locations. One location would be to remove the existing bathhouse and build on the same spot. Or leave it and build beside it. The other red area would be a new location possibility.

The yellow areas denote possible new row of full-service RV Hookups. There are pro's and con's to all of them. The largest yellow area on the east with all the trees would require removal of a large number of the trees in the middle row. It would also propose an entrance on the north and south of the rectangle to avoid backing campers over the drainage ditch on the west of it. This is something you really cannot visualize from an aerial photo and I recommend, if you have time, to go out to the lake and look at these locations in person.
