Allen,

Please see below. Ryan told Amanda and me at the last Planning Board meeting that this was coming, but it wasn't official yet. Now that it is, will the Clerk's office be able to get a new Wake County resident appointment for the Planning Board in June since Council doesn't meet in July?

Good morning! Happy Friday. The news is getting out, but I want to direct the narrative personally.

I am relocating to Dallas - Fort Worth (Frisco) to be the McAdams DFW Metro Director of Engineering summer of 2024. The move will likely occur in late June or into July pending sale of my farm in Apex. All of the McAdams leadership & family are excited, I'm excited, our Residential RDU folks are sad yet VERY supportive and we're going to continue to be stellar in both RDU and DFW!

So what does that mean for McAdams' Residential Sector? Well, nothing externally should be different. As this event unfolded for me, McAdams struck gold twice and is ever grateful and lucky that Jeremy Finch, PE (jfinch@mcadamsco.com) is able and excited to take over as Director of Residential RDU in the coming transitional period. Jeremy has been with McAdams for longer than I have going on 23 years now. And most folks here in the Triangle are very well aware of his superior group leadership and complex problem solving abilities. Jeremy will assume leadership over the five Residential centric teams with Mike Sanchez continuing as Group Leader in our Raleigh office. I will continue to be a resource and available to my teammates here in RDU and clients/consultants and project teams here as well now and forever. Feel free to text, email, teams chat... or swing through DFW when you're there.

I'm really excited about this opportunity. I hope I included most folks from the consulting/municipal/contractor list here, but I missed a person you can be in the know and tell other in your camp.

Yours,
Ryan
