Apple Valley Town Council Members:

I was really not interested in serving on the Town Council. I am semi-retired and moved here to be so. However, like many things in people's lives – things change. During the process to build our home here my eyes were opened to problems in our local government. It was fairly difficult for me to get my building permit in what I thought would be a very easy process. Even after this I was not excited about serving in our local government. I have monitored from afar the activities of our local committees and councils. I see some great challenges, but I also see some progress.

Mayor Marty Lisonbee called and asked me to consider joining the town council. I understand this is no guarantee and that I would have to run for re-election soon. Understand that I am willing to serve for the benefit of the citizens of Apple Valley. This is not a life goal for me and if I am not selected or later elected it will not disappoint me. My goal here is not some attainment, but rather to serve Apple Valley citizens for the betterment of their lot – whatever the Town Council can provide. I have a strong belief that property rights are paramount to most other laws, ordinances or codes. My core belief is that less government intervention is almost always better. If currently the Town Council; and later the citizens, choose for me to serve I will do so to the best of my ability.
