Louis County Boundary Commission. City Administrator Sterman noted that the approvals before the Board of Alderman tonight are just formalities. Mayor Tim Pogue asked if there were concerns with street annexations, and City Administrator Sterman noted that the Cascades Subdivision streets will need to be deeded over to the City of Ballwin from the Cascades HOA, as the streets are currently privately owned. Therefore, maintenance work on those streets cannot begin until the City owns the streets.

City Administrator Sterman also noted that these two annexations, like the previous one, have been through simplified boundary adjustments, requiring signatures of 75% of the registered voters in each subdivision.

A motion was made by Alderman Michael Finley and seconded by Alderman Mike Utt for a second reading of Bill 4147, title only. The motion passed unanimously. Bill 4147 was read for the second time.

Discussion:

Parks and Recreation Director Chris Conway told the Board that bids came in under budget for the general contractor for Holloway Park. Alderman Kevin Roach asked if the bulk of the work under the general contractor would be for the concrete pad underneath the new restroom being built. Parks Director Conway added that concrete work on the entire park is the bulk of the work, with utilities being another big part.

A motion was made by Alderman Kevin Roach and seconded by David Siegel to accept staff's recommendation. The motion passed unanimously and the consent item was approved.

MAYOR'S REPORT

Mayor Tim Pogue mentioned the article in the Post Dispatch this morning regarding the comments from St. Louis County Administrator Sam Page that a merger between St. Louis County, St. Louis City and other municipalities is once again being discussed, along with the prospect of a Board of Freeholders. Mayor Pogue made note that he will fight the merger again if it does indeed come to fruition, as he believes it is not in the best interest of our citizens. He made note that there are three former St. Louis County subdivisions that have since come to the City of Ballwin since the last merger talks.

CITY ADMINISTRATOR’S REPORT

City Administrator Eric Sterman noted that there are several things that may come up with the recently approved recreational marijuana amendment to the state constitution. He noted that City Attorney Bob Jones is working on figuring out what in Ballwin’s Code of Ordinances needs to be updated. He mentioned that there are two things that are permitted to be brought to the voters: a potential prohibition on recreational marijuana and a potential 3 percent sales tax on recreational marijuana. The prohibition can only be brought up in a Presidential Election year by a citizen petition or board action, which would mean the earliest it could be brought up is November 2024.

He also stated that the 3 percent sales tax on recreational marijuana would need to be approved at the next Board of Aldermen meeting in order for it to be approved to be put on the April 2023 ballot.

City Administrator Sterman also noted that there are currently no dispensaries in the City of Ballwin right now that would be able to sell recreational marijuana to the public as it stands, so the City has time to approve such a sales tax if the Board deems it necessary. If there are any new businesses that would be interested in selling recreational marijuana, they would have to come before the board.

City Attorney Bob Jones said if the City is interested in creating a 3 percent sales tax on recreational marijuana, the funds would go to the general fund but could be earmarked for a specific fund.

Alderman David Siegel indicated he was interested in seeing if the City of Ballwin could create a lower than three percent tax on recreational marijuana.

A motion was made by Alderman Frank Fleming and seconded by Alderman David Siegel to have City Attorney Bob Jones draft an ordinance for a 3 percent sales tax on recreational marijuana to be brought before the board at the next regular meeting. That motion was approved unanimously.

STAFF REPORTS

Parks – Holloway Park Comfort Station

Staff recommends purchasing CXT prefabricated comfort station utilizing the Sourcewell Contract at a cost of $92,805.

Discussion:

Parks & Recreation Director Chris Conway noted that this comfort station bid is for a 2 unit restroom facility without a water fountain. Mayor Tim Pogue noted that the total cost of the project came in around 20 thousand dollars under budget. Aldermen David Siegel and Michael Finley both questioned the removal of the water fountain on the comfort station, wondering if it should be put back on there due to popularity of the park, especially among pickleballers.

A motion was made by Alderman Frank Fleming and seconded by Mark Stallmann to approve the staff report for the Holloway Park Comfort station, adding in a water fountain into the bid. That motion was approved unanimously.

ALDERMANIC COMMENTS

Alderman Kevin Roach made a note recognizing former City Board Member Ray Kerlagon in the audience. Alderman Mark Stallmann wanted to commend City staff for their work on the capital budget. In 2021, it was estimated the City would have a significant budget deficit for 2022, and this year the City will end up $500,000 in the black.

Alderman Ross Bullington took a moment to welcome the residents of Charleston Oaks into the City of Ballwin.

A motion was made by Alderman Frank Fleming and seconded by Alderman Michael Finley to move to closed session regarding Section 610.021 (2) and 610.021 (9) RSMo. The motion was passed by unanimous affirmative roll call vote and the meeting moved to closed session at 7:42 p.m.

A motion was made by Alderman Frank Fleming and seconded by Alderman Michael Finley to reconvene in open session at 8:16 p.m. The motion was passed by unanimous affirmative voice vote and the motion passed.
