SUMMARY:

In December 2021, the City of Burleson contracted with 720 Design to develop a library master plan and facility study. The first year of the project included benchmarking, stakeholder interviews, community input through focus groups and surveys, and discovery tours of other library facilities. A space program was developed for a 60,000 square foot library facility along with adjacency diagrams, exterior visioning and conceptual floor plans. Maureen Arndt from 720 Design will present the final report and discuss how these findings will help the City of Burleson plan for the future of the Burleson Public Library.
