Hello Neighbors

I heard mention at last nights meeting that the Commission on the Environment hasn't had a quorum last few months. I applied and will attend the meetings with my constant focus on budgets, economic accessibility, quality of life and the rest of my brand always prioritizing neighbors and community over cars. Housing of the kind we are missing especially horizontal and gentle density incrementally in our communities like we used to have traditionally, and still do in my neighborhood thankfully. Dense housing on arterials with connected and protected bike lanes and robust public transit. Less parking more people. I wax on. I specialized in poetry in college. I'm such an odd lad. I play nice with others in person as you all know. Do it. Another fun fact. All 4 of you have been to my house. One of even had dinner over with their partner. I've been in one of your houses for drinks. Only Melinda didn't sit at my table because we walked.

We need me here. People like me are ever the drivers of progress. Behaviorism is real. God laughed and the world was made.

Grace and Peace JM
