

AT A GLANCE

Member-owned, not-for-profit WPPI Energy serves 51 locally owned electric utilities.

The Joint Action Advantage

Together, WPPI members have built a reliable, competitive and responsible power supply. They share modern utility business technologies and forward-thinking services, and they speak with a unified voice for effective energy policy advocacy.

Diverse. Competitive. Responsible.

WPPI's average wholesale power costs to members are stable and competitive, and together our membership shares a diverse, long-term portfolio of electric generation resources.

 - ...And more

Effective Advocacy

State and federal policymakers’ decisions about energy issues can significantly impact local utilities, their customers and their communities. Together with WPPI’s government affairs staff, member local officials work to inform legislators and regulators about constituents’ energy policy needs. A few current topics include:

- Preserving access to tax-exempt bonds for utility infrastructure financing
- Streamlining permitting for transmission and energy infrastructure
- Keeping costs down while maintaining robust grid reliability

1 For every megawatt hour of electricity produced by renewable sources, a renewable energy certificate or credit (REC) is created. The person or entity holding that REC is entitled to claim all of the environmental benefits of the associated renewable electricity generation. WPPI holds some, but not all, of the RECs associated with the electricity it receives from renewable sources. WPPI uses RECs (by retiring them within a REC tracking system) in connection with certain WPPI and member programs and to comply with state renewable energy standards. WPPI also sells some RECs, the revenues from which help lower the wholesale costs for WPPI members. The area of the chart labeled “Renewables” represents the portion of electricity received from renewable sources for which WPPI received and has not sold the associated RECs. These RECs may in the future be used by WPPI to comply with regulatory requirements, retired for other purposes or sold to third parties as described above. The portion of the chart labeled “Renewables, No RECs” represents the portion of electricity received from renewable sources for which WPPI did not purchase the associated RECs in the first instance, or for which the associated RECs have been sold.
