has shifted away from trying to win elections by reaching out to moderate centrist voters. In today’s polarized world, in which voters are holed up in their partisan fortresses, candidates rely more on ginning up enthusiasm from voters in their party’s bases and getting those people actually turning out at the polls.

That approach also serves the long-term political interests of Gov. Ron DeSantis. Beyond winning re-election this year, he wants to burnish his appeal to Republican Party base voters outside Florida. He’ll need their support in primaries for a widely expected candidacy for the 2024 Republican presidential nomination.

“Election years there were less controversial bills,” said state Sen. Lori Berman, a Palm Beach County Democrat first elected to the Legislature in 2010. “But we have someone [DeSantis] who has his eyes on running for the presidency, and this is becoming more of a norm in the state of Florida.”

Previous elections

Democrats have raised the specter of a rollback of abortion rights in previous election cycles, and it hasn’t made much, if any, difference.

“We said this when it was [Donald] Trump versus Hillary [Clinton], and they didn’t turn out. People knew what we were fighting for. Young women. Old women. Everybody knew,” Smith said.

Sean Foreman, a Barry University political scientist, said such issues should, in theory, help Democrats turn out new voters — but don’t.

“Where were they in 2016 for Hillary Clinton? Where were they in 2018 when you knew which side of the issue DeSantis would be on?” Foreman said. “Democrats have untapped potential in the electorate every cycle that they get excited thinking they can untap, but they haven’t found the keys yet.”

‘Moderate’ restrictions

As much as abortion-rights supporters are outraged over the new restrictions, the way they’ve evolved may help mute any political response.

In September, Florida Senate President Wilton Simpson, R-Trilby, said it would be “worthwhile to take a look” at a Texas law banning abortions after the sixth week of pregnancy to see if it should be implemented in Florida.

At six weeks, many women don’t know they’re pregnant. And the Texas law empowers anyone to sue anyone else who in any way provides any kind of help to a woman seeking an abortion after that point, even a ride-share driver who takes someone to have the procedure.

Instead, she said, Republicans pursued the Mississippi-style ban on abortions after 15 weeks — making them appear less draconian.

Last year, 68,449 abortions were reported to the state. Agency for Health care Administration statistics cited in a legislative staff analysis said 94% were during the first 12 weeks of pregnancy. The state said 76% were elective procedures.

A total of 105 were to end pregnancies that resulted from rape or incest.

“Had they done a Texas-style six-week I would have anticipated a pretty significant backlash,” Berman said. “I think they are using the 15 weeks and portraying it as moderate even though its’ really not, so they can market that to voters.”

School Board Meetings- School Board Meetings will be held with Board Members being physically present and via electronic communication. School Board Meetings will also be livestreamed. Public participation will be accepted on all agenda items in the following manner: Any person may present live comments by attending the KC Wright Administration Building’s Board Room at 600 Southeast Third Avenue, Fort Lauderdale, FL 33301. Visitors are strongly encouraged to wear a face covering for their nose and mouth (individuals are responsible for providing their own mask).

Individuals may also submit written comments via email to PublicComment@browardschools.com no later than two (2) hours in advance of the published time of the meeting. Anonymous comments or comments that do not pertain to the scheduled agenda items will not be accepted. Each written comment must also include the person’s name and home address. Pursuant to School Board Policy 1100A, the public may speak a total of fifteen (15) minutes during any single meeting, not including committee reports. Additionally, in the event a large group of individuals (more than twenty (20)) sign-up to speak on any one agenda item, the Board Chair has the authority to adjust the time limit for each speaker to speak less than the three (3) minutes (which is approximately 400 words) usually permitted or limit the overall time speakers will be heard on that item.

Also reserved on the meeting agenda for the March 15, 2022, Regular School Board Meeting is designated time, known as the Public Speakers section, to provide an opportunity for a maximum of ten (10) speakers or 30 minutes to address the School Board regarding matters of relevance to public education. Persons desiring to address the School Board as a public speaker must contact the Office of Official School Board Records (OSBR) at 754-321-2390 at least five (5) days prior to this scheduled Board meeting. Those persons who have not contacted the Office of Official School Board Records at least five (5) days in advance but wish to address the Board on topics pertaining to the school district shall be placed on a waiting list if time permits during the 30 minute-time period. Public Speakers for this meeting will be heard at 5 p.m. or immediately following the meeting, whichever is earliest. Lastly, Board Members will not engage in dialogue with the speakers. No action shall be taken on a speaker’s topic unless otherwise indicated on the agenda.

Workshops- Public speakers will be permitted three minutes each to address a topic prior to Board Members’ discussion on the topic. The times for items on the agenda are only estimates. The actual start times for these topics may vary up to an hour or more depending on the nature of the items and the length of the Board discussions and public comments. The meeting will also be live streamed. Public comments will be accepted on all agenda items in the following manner: Any person may present live comments by attending the KC Wright Administration Building’s Board Room at 600 Southeast Third Avenue, Fort Lauderdale, FL 33301.
