SIGNATURES

I HEREBY CERTIFY I understand this application will not be accepted and processed until all the requested information has been supplied. I realize drawings and measurements must be exact and if errors result in a violation of the Commission's approval, then appropriate changes will have to be made. I also understand this application may require a site visit / additional research by staff and a PUBLIC HEARING by the DEADWOOD HISTORIC PRESERVATION COMMISSION.

I understand this application is for a Certificate of Appropriateness or Project Approval only and that a building permit is required for any uses associated with this location prior to any constructions, alterations, etc. All statements are true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

I understand approval is issued for proposed work in keeping with City of Deadwood Ordinances, South Dakota State Administrative Rules and the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation and copies are available for my review.

Kevin and Bonny

This is the kind of fence I want to build. It will be pine wood and 8 feet tall between my front yard and Peter.

Will send a second email with the Gate

Thanks
Bonnie

What Is the Best Wood for a Fence?

In the market for a wood fence? There are lots of choices and styles out there to fit every budget.

Craig Fenderson, owner of Budget Fence N Deck, recommends western red cedar, the most expensive option. He says “it naturally resists insects and weather” better than other wood types. And when stained, it can last up to 20 years.

Western red cedar is graded from number three to number one, with the lower number containing fewer knots. He prefers number two premium. Fenderson adds you can reduce the overall cost by mixing in lower-cost woods during construction. “For example, one could use pressure treated wood or [Douglas] fir rails along with cedar pickets,” he says.

Here are some popular styles to consider.
