

DIRECTOR'S ORDER NO. DO-15-295

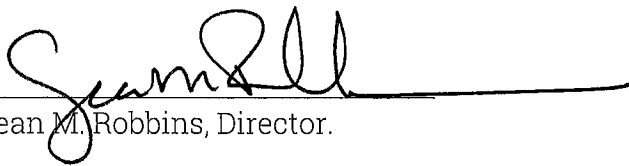

DESCHUTES COUNTY RURAL RENEWABLE ENERGY DEVELOPMENT ZONE

Under Oregon Revised Statutes 285C.353 (2013), a county may be designated as a rural renewable energy development zone by approval of the Director of the Oregon Business Development Department. Deschutes County has sponsored such a designation. Business Oregon staff has reviewed the application for designation and concluded that its approval meets the requirements of Oregon Laws.

BE IT SO ORDERED AND DIRECTED:

1. Effective January 8, 2015, a Rural Renewable Energy Development Zone is designated to encompass the entire territory of Deschutes County, other than inside the urban growth boundary as acknowledged for the City of Bend.
2. The exemption limitation for this Deschutes County Rural Renewable Energy Development Zone (in terms of first-year real market value of qualified property) is $250,000,000.

Done at Portland, Oregon, this Fourteenth day of January, Two thousand fifteen,

Sean M. Robbins, Director.