Selected Definitions

"Adaptive use" means the restrained alteration of a historical or architectural resource to accommodate uses for which the resource was not originally constructed but in such a way so as to maintain the general historical and architectural character.

"Conservation" means the sustained use and appearance of a resource essentially in its existing state.

"Rehabilitation" means the process of returning a historical or architectural resource to a state of efficiency or soundness by repair or alteration designed to encourage its continued use but without noticeable changing of the resource's exterior appearance.

"Restoration" means the process of accurately recovering all or part of the form and detail of a resource and its settings, as it appears at a particular period of time, by means of removal of later work and the replacement of missing earlier work.

"Stabilization" means the process of applying measures designated to halt deterioration and to establish the structural stability of an unsafe or deteriorated resource while maintaining the essential form, as it presently exists, without noticeably changing the exterior appearance of the resource.
