The image features the official seal of the City of Douglas, Arizona, centered in the upper half. The seal is circular with a white border containing the text "CITY OF DOUGLAS, ARIZONA" at the top and "MAY 15, 1905" at the bottom. The interior of the seal has a red-to-orange gradient background. It depicts various symbols: a family silhouette at the top, an airplane, a cow, a cactus, a train, a soldier's helmet, a tree, a person golfing, a person working in a field, a factory with smokestacks, and a musical instrument. In the center is a globe with a blue arrow pointing up and an orange arrow pointing down, with a small heart between them. Below the globe is a large letter "D". The background of the entire image is a black and white line drawing of historic buildings. On the left is a large, ornate building with a sign that says "GRAND". In the center is a building with a sign that says "HOTEL GARDEN". On the right is another building with a sign that says "HOTEL GARDEN". The buildings are set against a dark, wavy horizon line.
