Zoning Classification

Agricultural Residential 1 (AR-1) is designed to preserve the county's rural character while protecting natural resources and supporting both active and passive recreational uses. This district emphasizes land conservation and resource protection, minimal pedestrian activity, ample open space, and a high degree of separation between structures.

Intensity of Use

The proposed rezoning from AR-1 (Agricultural Residential-1) to AR-2 (Agricultural Residential-2) represents a limited increase in land-use intensity. The request applies only to approximately ± 1.46 acres of a larger ± 16.73 -acre parent tract. It is intended to allow the applicant to subdivide and convey the proposed parcel to his children for future residential use while retaining the remaining acreage under the existing AR-1 zoning designation.

Although the AR-2 district permits a smaller minimum lot size than AR-1, the request does not facilitate a large-scale increase in residential density. Instead, it creates one additional residential parcel while preserving the majority of the parent tract under its existing agricultural-residential zoning. The proposed rezoning maintains the low-density rural character of the area and is consistent with the intended use of the AR-2 zoning district for limited residential development.

Infrastructure

The property is served by a private well and septic, consistent with the surrounding development.

Road Routes: Corinth Church Road is classified as a Local Road within Effingham County.

Public Health, Safety, and Welfare

The proposed rezoning from AR-1 (Agricultural Residential-1) to AR-2 (Agricultural Residential-2) is not anticipated to affect public health, safety, or welfare adversely. The request is minimal and is intended to create one additional residential parcel for future family use while retaining the remaining acres under the existing AR-1 zoning designation. The proposed increase in residential density is minimal and is compatible with the surrounding rural residential character of the area. Any future subdivision and residential construction will be required to comply with the Effingham County Zoning Ordinance, Subdivision Regulations, and Environmental Health requirements.

Consistency with Comprehensive Plan

The subject property is designated Agricultural on the Future Land Use Map (FLUM). The Agricultural designation is intended to preserve agricultural lands, protect rural character, and support agricultural activities and very low-density residential development. The proposed rezoning from AR-1 (Agricultural Residential-1) to AR-2 (Agricultural Residential-2) is not fully consistent with the Agricultural designation because the AR-2 district permits smaller minimum lot sizes than those generally envisioned within this land use category.

However, the request is limited to approximately ± 1.46 acres of a larger ± 16.73 -acre parent tract. It is intended to create one additional residential parcel for family use while retaining the remaining acreage under the existing AR-1 zoning designation. The proposed rezoning represents a minimal increase in residential density and preserves the majority of the property in a low-density agricultural-residential setting.

*The parcel is designated Agricultural on the Future Land Use Map (FLUM). This category is for land dedicated to retaining the rural character throughout the county, including fields, lots, pastures, farmsteads, specialty farms, livestock production, agriculture, or commercial timber. Protection of natural resources should be at the forefront of planning for development in these areas. This category is also for land dedicated to active or passive recreational uses. These areas may be either publicly or privately owned and may include playgrounds, public parks, nature preserves, wildlife management areas, national forests, golf courses, recreation centers, or similar uses. This area does allow for low density residential development that is compatible with nearby agricultural uses. Mixed use housing types such as stick built or manufactured homes are permitted in these areas. Rural areas are characterized by low intensity development, larger lots, low pedestrian orientation and access, with a sizable amount of open space, and with a high degree of separation and deep setbacks. STAFF ANALYSIS

Staff finds that the requested rezoning is compatible with the surrounding land use pattern and consistent with the intent of the AR-2 (Agricultural Residential-2) zoning district. Although the request is not fully consistent with the Agricultural Future Land Use designation because of the smaller minimum lot size permitted in the AR-2 district, staff finds that the limited nature of the request, the retention of the majority of the property under AR-1 zoning, and the proposed family subdivision are generally supportive of the Comprehensive Plan's objective of accommodating low-density rural residential development while preserving the rural character of the surrounding area.

The proposed rezoning will allow the applicant to subdivide a ± 1.46 -acre parcel from the existing parent tract to deed to family members while retaining the remaining acreage under the existing AR-1 zoning designation. The request represents only a minor increase in development potential and is compatible with the surrounding pattern of agricultural and rural residential properties. Staff does not anticipate that the proposed rezoning will adversely affect the public health, safety, or welfare of the surrounding community.
