- 8.39.110 Violations.

8.39.010 Finding and purpose

A. Certain behaviors of persons on property within the City are injurious to residents, property owners, and businesses in the community, and as such constitute a public nuisance. Such public nuisances can create conditions that negatively affect one's health, or be indecent or offensive to the senses, or contribute to visual blight, so as to interfere with the safety and enjoyment of life or property by people in the community or neighborhood. The abatement of such behavioral nuisances is important to the City in its fight against blight, decay, deterioration and crime.

B. The owners of real properties within the City are responsible for monitoring their properties and for taking appropriate action if a nuisance exists thereon, whether that nuisance is created by existing physical conditions or by nuisance creating behaviors, or the combination of conditions. Many nuisances can be avoided with active property management. Lack of proper management of real property can create an environment conducive to behaviors that can become a nuisance with repetition and lack of abatement and corrective measures. If a property owner does not fulfill his or her responsibilities, it is necessary for the safety, health and welfare of the neighborhoods, and the City as a whole, that the City be able to undertake abatement action.

C. Because of the profound impact and affect behavioral nuisances have on the community, individuals and crime, the City Council, in adopting this Chapter finds the civil penalties imposed for a violation of this Chapter are justified and necessary to protect the health, property, and integrity of this community.

D. Nothing in this Chapter exempts property owners from compliance with state, federal, or local laws, including, but not limited to, laws on housing, eviction, retaliatory conduct, discriminatory conduct, or invasion of privacy.

E. The purpose of this Chapter is:

1. To set forth and enforce minimum standards relating to the management of activities conducted or conditions on real property to protect the public health, safety and welfare, and;

2. To put in place remedies which will permit the City to take timely, effective, efficient administrative or other legal action against property owners who permit or suffer nuisance creating behaviors or conditions to occur on their properties on a continuing basis, in order to compel such owners to abate the nuisance creating behaviors or conditions and control the environment, both physical and behavioral, on such real properties.

F. The provisions of this Chapter are complimentary, cumulative, supplementary, and additional to any other legal remedies available, whether found in this Code, state or federal laws, regulations, or case law.

G. It is not the intent nor purpose of this Chapter to subject owners or managers to any legal liability resulting from a tenant's actions away from the owner's or manager's own property unless it can be shown that the problem tenant is also creating a nuisance or committing a crime on the owner's or manager's property.
