Background/History:

The City of Forest Park was awarded a grant by the Atlanta Regional Commission (ARC) to update the Livable Centers Initiative (LCI) study for the Main Street Overlay District in Downtown Forest Park. The purpose of the study was to revisit the original LCI plan and keep it relevant to the current context, and economic conditions. The city had a robust public engagement process that included city officials, numerous public meetings, workshops, and public hearings at the Planning Commission meeting to encourage stakeholders and citizen participation in the process for shaping the report.
