I would hate to see Fruita turn into the projects of low income housing for workers that commute to GJ. I grew up Fruita and moved back here because it was a small rural community.

We need to allow the free market to work. The market will determine housing costs. We need to continue to attract good paying jobs to Fruita. Good paying jobs should be the primary focus of the housing plan.

It's a fact that nice places to live, like Fruita, attract families.

It is hard to make a living in the valley. I know because lived and sacrificed alot to make enough money to by a house. You have to learn to make wise choices and save money, or get two jobs. It is the responsibility of a person to make right choices and to work hard. We are Americans and we can do it without Government intervention.
