Fruita 8/9 School Student of the Month: Reagan Geer

Reagan Geer is one of the most mature and thoughtful young women who has ever graced the halls of Fruita 8/9 school. She can easily move from a thought-provoking conversation about indoctrination and tyrannical governments to an honest exploration of her own generation's interaction with, and dependency upon, technology. She is able to make arguments that others can follow with beautiful, scripted writing or eloquent and passionate speaking. She is incredibly intentional about using her voice to advocate for the betterment of the world around her, and that is most definitely not a skill that is seen in most of today's youth.

Reagan takes pride in the work that she is doing at school not because of the inevitable high marks she will receive but because she genuinely and honestly wants to understand and learn. She is extremely motivated and a role model for other students. She is driven to be successful and puts her all into everything she does. Reagan is action-oriented. She lets her actions speak for herself and to those around her.

We are thankful for the contributions Reagan has made to our learning community. She is the exact kind of student we want leading our futures and we are deeply proud of her.
