

From the Herald-Review April 18, 2026

Jennifer Rauschel

Grand Rapids Area Library Foundation

Jennifer Rauschel lives out a deep and unwavering commitment to community—often without recognition, but always with intention.

In addition to her professional role at Members Cooperative Credit Union, Jennifer serves on the Board of Directors for the Grand Rapids Area Library Foundation (GRALF), the Hill City Area Community Fund, and Itasca Community Television (ICTV). Her commitment extends beyond the boardroom as an Ambassador for the Grand Rapids Area Chamber of Commerce and through her involvement with UNBOUND – Collaboration Over Competition, United Way, and countless local events across Grand Rapids, Hill City, and Jacobson.

Whether serving meals at fundraisers, donating blood, or quietly assisting neighbors in need, Jennifer gives her time and energy with compassion and care. She is especially known for preparing home-cooked meals for individuals and families facing hardship—offering support in personal and meaningful ways.

Her impact is both heartfelt and consistent. For a recent milestone birthday, Jennifer requested donations to the Library Fund in lieu of gifts, helping restore funding for children’s programs impacted by budget cuts—an example of her selflessness and dedication to community.

Jennifer’s actions remind us that service can take many forms—and that even the quietest efforts can leave a lasting impact.