expand and cool as they move through the silencer body. the patented Flow-Through technology of this silencer redirects over size and weight. As with all of the OSS Helix style silencers, the widest range of 5.56 caliber rifles. Focusing strongly on a the expanding gasses in a helical pattern allowing the gas to shooters who are more concerned with maximum suppression maximum sound performance, the HX-QD 556 is ideal for Product Description The HX-QD 556 is the optimal choice for and extremely durable suppressor. Speaking of durability, the the resulting effect on the silencer tube is a remarkably cooler gas moves through the 17-4 stainless and Grade 5 titanium coils SOCOM reliability stress test – said differently, these cans are HX-QD's are built with a full auto rating and easily pass the US torque on the silencer and snugging it onto the mount. As the This unique design also means that the expanding gas generate built for abuse.
