Summary:

This presentation recognizes the 29 community members who participated in the town's first Government 101 program since before the pandemic. Participants attended six weekly sessions this fall, with most sessions meeting Thursday evenings for an hour and a half. Participants also gathered on a Saturday morning to visit stormwater, public works and utilities facilities. About 20 staff members participated in the sessions, along with Mayor Weaver, Commissioner Hughes, Town Attorney Kevin Hornik and representatives from each appointed board. This was the first Government 101 program to be led by Communications staff, with Budget and Management Analyst Josh Fernandez assisting.

Certificates of participation were handed out at the last session as well as Hillsborough University hats. A raffle also was held for three Yeti tumblers with the town's branding for those participants who made it to five of the six sessions.
