Summer Safety Tips:

Heat-Related Emergencies

- Always, make sure you “Look Before They Lock”. Do not leave children, senior citizens, or pets unattended in a vehicle.
- Conduct outdoor work or exercise in the early morning or evening when it is cooler.
- A wide-brimmed, loose-fitting hat that allows ventilation helps prevent sunburn and heat-related emergencies. Sunscreen also helps protect injury from the sun's rays and reduces the risk of sunburn.

Sgt. B. Alvarado

Common Heat-Related Medical Emergencies

Be Aware of your symptoms as well as those around you. You and your family and friends may not realize they are becoming overheated.

- Heat Exhaustion – Signs include profuse sweating, paleness, muscle cramps, weakness, dizziness, headache, nausea or vomiting, a weak-but-rapid pulse, and fainting. The skin may be cool and moist. If heat exhaustion is untreated, it may progress to heat stroke.
- Heat Stroke – Heat stroke occurs when the body's temperature rises rapidly, the sweating system fails, and the body is unable to cool down. Symptoms include an extremely high body temperature (above 103°F, orally), red, hot, and dry skin (no sweating), rapid and strong pulse, throbbing headache, dizziness, nausea, confusion, and unconsciousness.
