Colorectal Cancer Tests Save Lives

The best test is the test that gets done

Colorectal cancer (CRC) is the second leading cancer killer of men and women in the US, following lung cancer. The US Preventive Services Task Force (USPSTF) recommends three CRC screening tests that are effective at saving lives: colonoscopy, stool tests (guaiac fecal occult blood test-FOBT or fecal immunochemical test-FIT), and sigmoidoscopy (now seldom done).

Testing saves lives, but only if people get tested. Studies show that people who are able to pick the test they prefer are more likely to actually get the test done. Increasing the use of all recommended colorectal cancer tests can save more lives and is cost-effective.

To increase testing, doctors, nurses, and health systems can:

- ◊ Offer all recommended test options with advice about each.
- ◊ Match patients with the test they are most likely to complete.
- ◊ Work with public health professionals to:
 - Get more adults tested by hiring and training "patient navigators," who are staff that help people learn about, get scheduled for, and get procedures done like colonoscopy.
 - Create ways to make it easier for people to get FOBT/FIT kits in places other than a doctor's office, like giving them out at flu shot clinics or mailing them to people's homes.
