

Law Enforcement Integrity and Liability

SB20-217 concerns law enforcement accountability and includes several provisions that have implications for pool insurance coverage. For an overview of the Enhance Law Enforcement Integrity Act click here.

SB20-217 & CAPP

Based on the manuscript form of the CAPP policy, which is designed to meet the current and expanding needs of counties, claims that arise under the provisions contained in SB20-217 will be handled in the ordinary course of business, like all other claims against a member county.

Every claim has its own facts and circumstances that affect how the claim is treated. Particularly when the law is changed in a way that is intended to expand liability, there are some unknowns about how it will be interpreted. However, CAPP property coverage continues to apply to county-owned property, including body-worn cameras and dashboard cameras. CAPP's liability policy still covers a deputy's conduct, like any other county employee, unless the deputy's employer determines that they did not act in good faith or a reasonable belief in the lawfulness of their actions.

CAPP & RISK MANAGEMENT

Some CAPP member counties have asked about providing guidance and support to their law enforcement officials and have proactively indicated that they "intend to indemnify" their deputies, including the costs of legal defense, unless the deputy is convicted of a criminal violation. While it is difficult to assess a deputy's good faith or reasonable belief before their conduct has occurred, under the law, it is within the employer's discretion to make that determination.

Good risk management practice suggests that members should have conduct policies in place, train on adherence to the policies, and hold violators accountable.

BODY CAMERAS

As of July 1, 2023, the act requires all local law and county enforcement agencies and the Colorado state patrol to issue body-worn cameras to their officers with some exceptions. It states, "A peace officer shall wear and activate a body-worn camera when responding to a call for service or during any interaction with the public initiated by the peace officer when enforcing the law or investigating possible violations of the law."

WHAT THIS MEANS FOR COUNTIES

The liability of the Enhance Law Enforcement Integrity Act means it is more important than ever for county officials and employees to be aware of the laws and policies that guide their conduct and to abide by them.
