Insurance Proceeds Statement:

FEMA's Recovery Policy FP 206-086-1, Public Assistance Policy on Insurance (June 29, 2015), requires applicants to take reasonable efforts to recover insurance proceeds that it is entitled to receive from its insurers. FEMA willconsider final insurance settlements that may be less than the insurance policy limits when an applicant demonstrates that it has taken reasonable efforts to recover insurance proceeds that it is entitled on a case-by-case basis.

Standard Insurance Comments

FEMA Policy 206-086-1

PART2: OtherInsurance-Related Provisions. (Sections 312 and 406(d) of the StaffordAct)

A. Duplication of Benefits. FEMA cannot provide assistance for disaster-related losses that duplicate benefits available to an applicant from another source, including insurance.

1. Before FEMA approves assistance for a property, an applicant must provide FEMA with information about any actual or anticipated insurance settlement or recovery it is entitled to for that property.

2. FEMA will reduce assistance to an applicant by the amount of its actual or anticipated insurance proceeds.

3. Applicants must take reasonable efforts to recover insurance proceeds that they are entitled to receive from their insurer(s).

FEMA Policy 206-086-1

H. Subsequent Assistance. When a facility that received assistance is damaged by the same hazard in a subsequent disaster:

1. If the applicant failed to maintain the required insurance from the previous disaster, then the facility is not eligible for assistance in any subsequent disaster.

2. Upon proof that the applicant maintained its required insurance, FEMA will reduce assistance in the subsequent disaster by the amount of insurance required in the previous disaster regardless of:

a. The amount of any deductible or self-insured retention the applicant assumed (i.e., "retained risk").

Obtain and Maintain Requirements:

44 CFR § 206.253 Insurance requirements forfacilities damaged by disasters otherthan flood.

(a) Prior to approval of a Federal grant for the restoration of a facility and its contents which were damaged by a disaster other than flood, the recipient shall notify the Regional Administrator of any entitlement to insurance settlement or recovery for such facility and its contents. The Regional Administrator shall reduce the eligible costs by the actualamount of insurance proceeds relating to the eligible costs.

(b) (1) Assistance under section 406 of the Stafford Act will be approved only on the condition that the recipient obtain and maintain such types and amounts of insurance as are reasonable and necessary to protect against future loss to such property from the types of hazard which caused the major disaster. The extent of insurance to be required will be based on the eligible damage that was incurred to the damaged facility as a result of the major disaster. The Regional Administrator shall not require greater types and extent of insurance than are certified as reasonable by the State Insurance Commissioner.

(2) Due to the high cost of insurance, some applicants may request to insure the damaged facilities under a blanket insurance policy covering all their facilities, an insurance poolarrangement, or some combination of these options. Such an arrangement may be accepted for other than flood damages. However, if the same facility is damaged in a similar future disaster, eligible costs will be reduced by the amount of eligible damage sustained on the previous disaster.

(c) The Regional Administrator shall notify the recipient of the type and amount of insurance required. The recipient may request that the State Insurance Commissioner review the type and extent of insurance required to protect against future loss to a disaster-damaged facility, the Regional Administrator shall not require greater types and extent of insurance than are certified as reasonable by the State Insurance Commissioner.

(d) The requirements of section 311 of the Stafford Act are waived when eligible costs for an insurable facility do not exceed $5,000. The Regional Administrator may establish a higher waiver amount based on hazard mitigation initiatives which reduce the risk of future damages by a disaster similar to the one which resulted in the major disaster declaration which is the basis for the application for disaster assistance.

(e) The recipient shall provide assurances that the required insurance coverage will be maintained for the anticipated life of the restorative work or the insured facility, whichever is the lesser.

(f) No assistance shall be provided under section 406 of the Stafford Act for any facility for which assistance was provided as a result of a previous major disaster unless all insurance required by FEMA as a condition of the previous assistance has been obtained and maintained.

FEMA Policy 206-086-1

F. Timeframes for Obtaining Insurance. FEMA will only approve assistance under the condition that an applicant obtains and maintains the required insurance.

1. The applicant must document its commitment to comply with the insurance requirement with proof of insurance.

2. If an applicant cannot insure a facility prior to grant approval (for example, if a building is being reconstructed), the applicant may provide a letter of commitment stating that they agree to the insurance requirement and will obtain the types and extent of insurance required, followed at a later date by proof of insurance once it is obtained. In these cases, the applicant should insure the property:

a. When the applicant resumes use of or legal responsibility for the property (for example, per terms of construction contract or at beneficial use of the property); or

b. When the scope of work is complete.

D. Modifying the Insurance Requirement. An applicant may request that FEMAmodify the insurance requirement if the applicant attempts to comply with the requirement and believes that: the required insurance is not reasonably available; an alternative to the insurance requirement provides adequate protection against future loss to the property; or the required insurance is not necessary to protect against future losses to the property.

1. The applicant should submit its written request to modify the insurance requirement to FEMA through the recipient. The request should include supporting documentation.

2. In its supporting documentation, the applicant should identify and provide relevant evidence, such as:

a. Whether insurance coverage for the hazard or category of property exists, the conditions under which insurers offer coverage, or whether like-situated parties have substantially similar coverage;

b. Whether the applicant can obtain the amount of insurance coverage, and if not, why (for example, if the amount of insurance FEMA requires exceeds the value of the property);

c. The likelihood of repetitive damage.

d. Whether hazard mitigation measures reduce future risk to the property;

e. Information describing the alternative to insurance and an explanation as to why it provides adequate protection against future loss;

f. The affordability of the types and extent of insurance, including the amount of retained risk required as part of available insurance policies, and the cost of insurance in relation to the applicant's operating budget; and

g. The possibility of renewing an existing insurance policy.

3. In its request, the applicant should also specify the types and extent of insurance it suggests are reasonably available, adequate, and necessary to protect against future loss, based on the supporting documentation provided.

Date Downloaded: 2/5/26 11:56am CST 24 of 27

4. FEMA willconsider the request provided by the applicant and work with the applicant and recipient to determine whether it is appropriate to modify the insurance requirement.

E. State Insurance Commissioner Certifications. FEMA will not require greater types and amounts of insurance than are certified as reasonably available, adequate, or necessary by the appropriate State insurance commissioner. The State insurance commissioner cannot waive Federal insurance requirements but may certify the types and extent of insurance reasonable to protect against future loss to an insurable facility.

1. In a certification, a State insurance commissioner should identify the facility or facilities that the certification applies to and certify the types and extent of insurance reasonable to protect against future loss to the property or properties.

2. The certification should include supporting information regarding the availability, adequacy, and necessity of insurance such as:

a. Insurance market conditions, including market competition and the relative size of voluntary and residual markets within the State and declared area.

b. Reasonable risk management practices based on the applicant's function, size, and operating budget;

c. Additional information related to the hazard(s) and class(es) of property for which the applicant must obtain insurance, the extent of policy limits for each insured property, and related premium costs.

3. FEMA will not accept a State insurance commissioner certification that purports to certify that flood insurance—up to the maximum amount of coverage available through an SFIP— is not reasonably available for properties insurable under the NFIP.

4. FEMA will use the type and amount of insurance certified as reasonably available, adequate, or necessary by the State insurance commissioner to modify the applicant's insurance requirement.

5. A State insurance commissioner certification regarding an applicant's property only applies to the current declared event. FEMA does not consider prior certifications when establishing insurance requirements in a subsequent disaster.

FEMA and the recipient will verify proof of insurance, modification, or Insurance Commissioner's certificate prior to grant closeout to ensure the applicant has complied with the insurance requirement.

An applicant should notify FEMA—in writing through the recipient—of changes to their insurance which impact their ability to satisfy the insurance requirement after it provides proof of insurance to FEMA. This includes changes related to self-insurance. If an applicant fails to do this, FEMAmay de obligate assistance and not provide assistance in a future disaster.

When a Obtain and Maintain requirement has been placed on a facility from a previous disaster the insurance coverage that is required must be procured and in force prior to the Disaster Declaration Date of the current disaster. Regardless of the peril, If the same facility is claimed in the current or future disaster and the prior Obtain and Maintain requirement has not been satisfied that facility it is no longer eligible for FEMA Section 406 assistance.
