NEW BUSINESS

Review the list of potentially historic) buildings in Jackson that will be provided) to Dr. Hoffman so his students can practice) their National Register nomination skills.)

Marybeth Neiderkorn reported that she provided Dr. Hoffman with a list of potential historic sites in Jackson that his students could research and prepare a national registration draft proposal. Dr. Hoffman told Marybeth Neiderkorn there were some addresses he wasn't aware of but would pass them along to his students. She said he appreciated the list because his students have exhausted the properties in the City of Cape. He is looking forward to moving on to Jackson.

Marybeth Neiderkorn went through the list with the board and said she would send the list to everyone to have.

Marybeth Neiderkorn said she spoke with the county commissioners about the county courthouse and the administration building. She said the County Commissioners were not interested in getting those buildings onto the national registry. They felt it would restrict them from any future projects they may want to do with them.

Marybeth Neiderkorn told the board she would inform them of Dr. Hoffman's students' progress with the list when she gets updates.
