Re: The Compliance Engine by Brycer Update

I will be providing an update on The Compliance Engine by Brycer system, which was implemented over a year ago. This update will include an overview of the system's operational performance, as well as the compliance benefits it has provided—specifically, improved tracking and enforcement of required inspections, increased accuracy of records, and greater overall accountability from service providers.

The presentation will also address the system's role in strengthening the City's risk management efforts by ensuring timely compliance and supporting safer building and fire prevention practices. I will be available to answer any questions regarding the system and the reasons for its continued utilization by the City.
