At the time of that update, I was incorrect in that writing as I should have checked the checklist before writing that sentence. I wrote it the night after our t you didn't respond to for finalizing. Had you done so, I would've double-checked that assertion before finalizing.

The report is accurate and is in final form.

Thanks, Kyle. I will forward it accordingly.

I do want to bring to your attention that on February 25, 2026, Michelle McHale wrote in a status update letter the following with respect to City staff providing documents:

Fieldwork was conducted in the week of November 17, 2025 for Phases 2 and 3. Except for grants, the tasks were completed. Grant tasks remain an open item for PM and we owe a request for select items from the City for that aspect of our scope of work. All previous requests were fulfilled by City representatives without exception.

It remains unclear why the Final Report is replete with references indicating your firm was unable to obtain documents.

We will see you this evening.

Good evening:

If you want to email the PowerPoint ahead of time, I will send it to the IT Director for a seamless upload before the meeting starts.

Otherwise, please arrive early with a thumb drive so we can upload your presentation promptly.
