Hi Michelle,

I think that some in this group may be interested in the Juneau STEAM Coalition, the annual Curiosity Unleashed event coming up in a couple weeks. NWS Juneau will host one of the activities with a focus on messaging significant weather. They are looking for more volunteers/activities, particularly related to engineering. The website has all the information anyone may need if they would like learn more: <https://juneausteam.org/curiosity-unleashed-2024/>

The theme this year is "Imagine IF". Flyer attached, I'd be happy to bring some with me on the 14th too.
