Program Highlights

High school teens brought their creative side to the library for an evening of painting and snacks. Each participant went home with their Bob Ross style painting on canvas. (See below)

To celebrate National Library Week this April, patrons were invited to stop in the library for a few passive programs. Participants were tasked with finding all the bunnies hiding in the books throughout the youth department for a small prize. This year, we also featured a bookmark station where patrons could design and laminate their bookmarks using a cold laminator. Our smallest friends were eager to pick out books and put their new bookmarks to use right away! (See right)

Community Outreach & Collaboration

The second annual Survivor Saturday brought double the attendance from last year. This program provides an opportunity for families to learn life skills together while promoting physical resilience. Participants are able to work as a team, or on their own, to complete challenges. (See left and right)

This April, the Kaukauna Public Library hosted the Haen Family Bingo Night. Between games, families could explore the library and enjoy large games and crafts in the youth department. The library was also invited to join school staff for the Electa Quinney Family Night. Our table featured a trivia wheel for a sticker prize, program guides for summer, and a few of our new Wonderbooks. (See below)

Kaukauna Area School District staff dedicated some time to volunteer at the library, helping to prep supplies for the summer take-and-make kits. Staff split the time between painting discs, cutting apart barcodes and clear covers, and packing bags. We are so grateful for our community partnerships and our district staff! (See below)
