

Anna Walters

Meet Anna Walters, a dynamic leader who is a seasoned professional known for her creative approach and knack for problem solving. After moving to Kingsport five years ago, armed with an MBA in one hand and pickleball paddle in the other, Anna revolutionized the pickleball community by founding the first pickleball club in the Tri Cities. This Club attracted more than two hundred people in just two years. In addition to serving the Club, Anna gives pickleball lessons for the Senior Center. Her volunteer activities include serving the community through the St. Vincent de Paul conference, being USA Pickleball District Ambassador for East TN and leading a book group. Off the court, Anna enjoys hiking, reading, and spending quality time with her husband, Rob and their two fur babies, Layla and George.
