Reasons for Wanting to Serve
As an active community volunteer, youth soccer coach, Scout leader, and father of two boys in local LFP schools, I am deeply invested in the long-term vitality, safety, and inclusivity of Lake Forest Park. I am seeking to serve on the Planning Commission to bring a collaborative, data-driven perspective to our city’s evolving land-use policies.

My priorities align directly with the key choices facing our community: balancing state middle housing mandates with vital watershed protections, expanding safe neighborhood walkability and public space access, and cultivating vibrant, walkable commercial hubs. Having my own property directly impacted by the SR 522 expansion gives me a clear, personal appreciation for how infrastructure and land-use decisions touch residents' daily lives.

Professionally, I bring 12 years of executive sales leadership in technology startups. My career has centered on data-driven growth planning and negotiating complex trade-offs across diverse stakeholders, boards, and leadership teams. I want to leverage this experience to help build consensus and ensure LFP grows into a more inclusive, accessible, and resilient community for future generations.
