My first landmark monumental sculpture was completed in 1975 I now have a total of 37 monumental sculptures and public artworks in 7 states: California, Nevada, Colorado, Texas, Montana, Missouri and Wyoming. The budget for these projects ranged from $6,000 to $270,000. All my public art projects have been under budget, on schedule and meet insurance requirements.

Please provide installation guidelines for your artwork, if any.

If site access is easy the sculpture can be rolled on a 6' x 6' concrete pad and then set in place. If not a small crane will be needed to set the sculpture. Artist will provide approved concrete anchors, drilling tools and power if necessary for installation.

Statement My style of sculpture is based upon using focal points. These designs give the impression of abstract compositions until they are viewed from one specific location called the focal point. Then an illusion of any image can be produced of a word, symbol or an illustration. These sculpture compositions vary from simple designs to complex configurations with multiple focal point images. The image complexity controls the basic structure of form but it also inspires the variety of abstraction.

This Focal Point sculpture spells the word "ART" in capital letters and welcomed visitors to the Las Vegas Downtown Arts District from 2005 to 2019. The word "ART" is stretched back in depth to create a balanced composition of geometric abstraction.

It is constructed in steel pipe and tubing with dimensions of 10 foot high by 75 inches wide by 65 inches deep. It will sit on a 6 foot square pad.

Statement My main style of sculpture is based upon using focal points as my previous 3 entries displayed. My secondary style of sculpture is a tribute to my career as a firefighter and honors this service with memorial designs. "Tolling of the Bell" is one of these memorial designs.

Long before the Internet was invented, or telephones and radios were used across our great nation, fire departments used the telegraph to communicate. They used special codes to receive fire alarms from those once familiar red fire alarm boxes which stood on practically every street corner of America. The resonating echo sounded the locations of thousands of emergencies throughout the history of our growing country. It was heard by all station houses in the vicinity and outside on the streets.

When a firefighter was killed, or in the language of the military and public safety: "fell", in the line of duty, the fire alarm office would tap out a special signal. This came to be called the "Tolling of the Bell" and was broadcast over the telegraph fire alarm circuits.

This was done for the purpose of notification, and as a sign of honor and respect for all firefighters who had made the ultimate sacrifice in service to their communities. Such symbolism is a time-honored fire service tradition and is repeated at each service of a fallen firefighter by The Honor Guard. This sculpture honors my history as a firefighter and is available in bronze or aluminum.

I have delved in many mediums and strive to create with new materials and styles. I love bringing Art in the public eye where everyone can enjoy and be inspired where ART connects us ALL.
