Summary Statement:
Community Development staff are anticipating a number of opportunities for the Planning Commission (PC) to review early drafts of the 2025 Comprehensive Plan Update. The March meeting is the first of three meetings where Comprehensive Plan chapters will be brought forward for input ahead of assembly of a final draft. Staff welcomes the input of the Commission members as we work with our consultants to assemble this document. The same drafts will simultaneously be reviewed by the Department's Council Committee. A tentative review schedule is outlined below: March 27: Review of Vision, Health & Wellness Chapter, and Climate Resiliency Chapter April 24: Review of Housing and Land Use Chapters May 22: Review of Capital Facility and Transportation Chapters A completed draft of the Comprehensive Plan is due to the Department of Commerce by June 13, 2025, but the city may continue making edits to the plan until the end of the year. Public hearings on the document and final adoption will be slated for the latter half of 2025.
