It has been a great pleasure to review the findings of the Study Committee re: the proposed East End Mission Historic District as charged by the City Council of Mackinac Island. In completing the task assigned to them by city government the study committee has added an additional protective bulwark for an absolutely unique treasure of Michigan and American history. The eastern neighborhood of the city has now been identified for its diverse collection of architecture and its influence on the growth of the City of Mackinac Island.

I most heartily commend the efforts of the city council and its study committee for their foresight and vision by providing additional protections for the neighborhood.

Sincerely,

Dear Anneke,

Will you please convey through Danielle Leach the above letter?
