Message from Chief Phipps

Ryan Phipps, Chief of Police

As we end 2021, I feel proud and thankful to sit as Chief of Police and for the hard work of the men and women of the Manor Police Department. There is no denying the bright future that is in development and planning for our community and department. The relationship we have with our community is strong and growing stronger each day. We remain focused on addressing violent crime, ironing out neighborhood problems, and further developing and nurturing our bonds with all our residents and visitors.

I'm very proud of the work that the MPD team has accomplished in 2021. Over the past year, we've leveraged technology to advance training and service to our community, launched new programs to help those experiencing a mental health crisis, partnered with charities to provide food, clothing & Christmas gifts to those in need, and used evidence-based strategies to handle some of our communities toughest issues. In 2021, during Winter Storm Uri, we saw the resilience of our community and the care of neighbor to neighbor. Water/food sharing and board games with those who previously only shared waves hello were remarkable and through a tough period, we saw time slow down, families eating together, teenagers not on their phones but building snowmen, and people getting to know each other.

As uncertainties loom due to COVID, climate/weather changes, and distrust in our criminal justice system, we stand ready to address any challenges that lie ahead and are confident in our abilities and flexibility to make changes to services to meet the needs and expectations of our community.

As you explore this report you will find statistical data showing the commitment our employees have to our community and visitors. The collective work our team accomplishes is unparalleled and we will continue making investments into properly trained and professional employees and building long-standing relationships with our residents, businesses, and visitors.
On behalf of our team, thank you for your enduring support.

TRAINING

In today's environment, police training is vital to the professional development of the officers and staff of the Manor Police Department to maintain a professional, efficient, and effective agency. Every member of the department is certified through the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement as either a peace officer or a telecommunicator, and as such, they are mandated to complete continuing education hours. In addition to TCOLE mandates department policy requires annual in-service training.

 40% of the department has an associate's degree or higher, and of that 3 staff members hold master degrees.

Mental health issues are a growing concern in the country today. In order to meet the demands of this growing concern, the Department has made it a top priority to have all the officers trained and capable to respond to any situation. The Mental Health Officer (MHO) Course is a certification course consisting of 40 hours of intensive and interactive training.
