

The Experience TV show

The Experience is a sixty-minute TV show celebrating the communities we visit. We have partnered with Ben Palmer at Think Local in Brookfield, Wisconsin. The TV show will be broadcast on the Hometown Streaming network, a world-wide streaming platform with millions of viewers, as well as traditional local network stations around the state. Each participant will receive their video segment to use as marketing promotion on their own website and social media sites.

Show Outline:

Host intro to the city, graphic of map and location in Wisconsin with basic information of what the viewer is going to experience.

HOST: "Welcome to the experience, we are in this amazing city nestled along the winding Lemonweir River Mauston, Wisconsin. Mauston has so much to offer, we are going to play a little golf, see a historic home, check out a local brewery, tour the extensive city parks, even one with a living food pantry. Before we get to all of that we are going to need some breakfast and I found the perfect spot right downtown. Beyond the Daily Grind serves more than just coffee.

The show hosts will experience places to eat, shopping, lodging, entertainment, city parks and meet the people who make your community such a great place to live and visit. We will also film the entire city with a professional drone to use as transition footage in the show. The footage can also be used on the City website and social media sites.
