I (Haylee) was running score board and training another staff member how to do the score board. Dyrell's team had made a touchdown, and it hadn't even been 2 minutes before Dyrell was yelling at me saying "Why aren't my points up, add my points." I asked him "why are you yelling at me?" Dyrell says "Because your being slow, your acting fucking stupid." I told him "Do not speak to me that way." And he says "What are you going to do about it?" So what I did about it was call Jen. 6:05 pm.

I was told to not speak negatively, let head ref know what was going on. And so I did. Ref gave Dyrell warning at about 6:50 pm. Dyrell walked up and down sideline telling me he was going to have my shit handed at the end of the game. He walked to his car called someone. He then told me "Go get your fucking boyfriend." In which my boyfriend was already on his way, because I felt threatened and unsafe when Dyrell was calling people for me to get "handled." By this time Dyrell was telling his players "That's when you punch him in the face Immanuel." Cross had then said

"Aye you dont speak to my team like that." Which led Dyrell to run after him trying to fight on the feild... mid game. This is when Ref called the game. Myself and others were calling police. When police arrived I gave my Statement, Dyrell was so destract Police had to detain him.

Thank You,

On the night of of October 19th 2023 I was at my daughter Zoe dial's game the entire time I was at the game I observed coach Dyrell being loud and being very rude towards the children's I've made several comments to the people I was with about how he was acting crazy and that he needed to chill out. He has known me from when I lived in the river Garden Apartments back in 2016-2017. He had an issue with my Ex husband then. So once he started to go after the coach of my daughter's team I went on the field to get Zoe off. The referee ended up calling the game. We had the kids line up to shake hands. He was still trying to come to the coach. I was told that an officer wanted to speak to my daughter alone so I was waiting close enough to be able to hear the conversation he was having with my daughter. He was just asking her questions about the coach. While dryell was walking by he was starting to become unhinged again and I told him he needed to chill out cause there were kids around. He kept telling me to shut my mouth because he's not my man and that he was calling me names so my brother told him he needed to shut his mouth. He then had exchanged words with my brother and the cops started to put him in handcuffs and then I tried to get the kids away so I didn't see what happened after that as I was still talking to the other cops trying to get them the videos that were from my mom's phone to the cops he was sight released and he was still trying to say stuff the cops were telling him he needed to be quiet. I had several parents and children say that he was saying hit the girl, get the girl and the girl is my daughter and she is the only girl on the team so he was making it a personal Vendetta throughout the game to go after my child. I don't think he should be allowed to coach any more Sports because I would feel uncomfortable with my children even being in a sport with him being a coach whether it be their coach or not. No parent should have to feel that way. I will try to attach the videos to this email as well but they are a little bit lengthy so they may not be sent at the same time because of how big the video size is. Thank you.

On Thursday October 19 2023 we had a flag football game against Dyrell we where on one side he was on the other side where score board was and he started yelling at the score keeper telling her she doesn't know how to keep score and she does, and would not stop then the referee called time several times to speak to him, then we started playing again then he started yelling at the other referee and they switch sides of the field. Then with only a few minutes left there was a play that one of my players did and a flag was thrown I told referee good call and I talk to my kid on my team then he walked over and said I am going to punch that kid I said you are not going to punch any of my kids you can punch me before my kids then he told his team to punch our kids I told my kids to stay over here and the referee stepped between him and me and said go to your side then he keep saying lets go fight right know I said nothing then the referee called the game and said game is over the cops where called and they showed up then his nephew came over and said you better not talk to my uncle that way or you won't like it I said go to your side of the field then went to other parents on the side line and said the same thing to them they said go to your side kid then we let the cops take care of it then as I was walking past the cops and him to my vehicle he said I will follow you to your house and kick your butt there. I just ignored him then he said something to a little girl on my team and the little girl's uncle said get out of here and he came towards them, and the cops grabbed him and handcuffed him then we got in are vehicle and left.

Hey Jen, I don't wanna bother you, but I wanted to say something about the game Thursday. A lot of what's being portrayed is only one sided. It all did get out of hand but he was sticking up for the kids. We were sitting on the opposite side of the field where we could see the scoreboard and see what was going on with the other coaches and the mother of the player that was being too aggressive. If you want to talk about any of it you can call me, I just wanted to say something about it. I am just worried about if Konnor got hit like the last kid he could have gotten really hurt. He's 1/2 of most of these kids size. Dyrell has been a really good coach for the kids, just wish he didn't handle this the way he did. Thank you for all you do for

To whom it may concern,

I Jaimee Collet am writing on behalf of coach D. & our five star team.

My son Hayden plays on the team with Coach D.

On Tuesday I was sitting on the opposite side of the score board table. I was sitting close to some other parents on our team, but I was in the middle of the other team.

I am personally standing behind coach D. and his actions to stand up for our boys the way he did.

Things took a turn for the worst at the end because it got personal from other parents on the ^{other} team including the coach's wife. (or was told it was his wife.)

During the game there was a few tackle moves that hit on both sides. (normal in a football game). But what got out of hand was the coach's kid. Was getting madly w/ his mother. I actually said something to this kid because he was being → disrespectful to her + I couldn't take it anymore. Then, their coach called a time out and this took place right in front of me on the 50 yard line.

Coach said do whatever you have to do to stop number 34. (Manny). Manny is a good running back and was giving them a run for their money.

This was after the numerous tackles that kept happening. Finally the play that everything blew up in was the coaches son dropped his shoulder down, + nailed manny #34 in the chin + threw him out of bounds + to the ground.

That's when both sides of parents got up + coach snapped. Both coaches went to the ref to do something. Ref kept giving excuses that they can't see certain stuff + they should have told them sooner (which coach said he did). Ref kept saying they didn't see anything other than that play + that the kid was going to be ejected from the game.

By then it was too late all the parents were on the field coaches were in the middle of it.

Coach D kept saying this is going to fan for flag. The other Coach tried saying he told his team to do stuff like that.

Now I personally have dealt w/ this coach when he coached little league at the beginning of this year. He has said multiple times to purposely hit our players. We ended up with 3 injured players that we called the game. That was the same game my fiancee was kicked out because he was pressed + the coach (same as the one w/ coach D) was talking trash behind the fence.

Needless to say this was not a one-sided event. I was also with the coach's wife backing him from the sidelines. The other coach's wife came up behind me warning her mouth to where I wanted to turn around + knock her out. Then there was a lady in a tie dyed shirt coming up to Coach D talking trash. At that point the cops came up and grabbed Coach from behind, and just like any normal person would do when someone grabs your arms from behind you would flinch and - react like "What the fk)

because I said that when he grabbed him w/out warning.
Because the lady with the dyed shirt was talking crap to her husband / Baylerson's
starting walking the coach
while 5 officers by now
are cuffing him.

Needless to say this event took a turn for the worst on both ends (including the officer who grabbed Coach from behind with no warning.
I was in front of him when it happened & it turned against me).

Now our team is losing because the kids suffer in the end.

So on behalf of Coach D.
I will stand by him & his actions to protect our kids
whether it was a little out of line. If you punish one coach you better be punishing the other coach. Especially since this is not his first & I know it won't be his last
