BACKGROUND:

The Charter Review Commission ("CRC") was appointed in the Summer of 2019 to review specific items as requested by members of the City Council. The CRC met monthly, with the exception of several months missed due to COVID-19. Council held a Special Session on August 3, 2021 to hear the recommendations of the CRC and to decide whether to send each recommendation to the voters for their consideration. Council voted to send five of the recommendations to the voters. Recent discussions have targeted a possible June 28, 2022 election for these ballot measures. Charter amendments are adopted by ordinance. In order to meet the State's deadlines for a June 2022 election, Council will be required to vote on the ordinance on Second Reading no later than April 12, 2022.

At the Special Session on August 3, 2021, Council asked for further discussion on 5 of the recommendations related to term expiration, Council vacancies, utility rates, recall elections, and tax-increment financing. Council discussed these items during its conference on August 24, 2021 and reached consensus on sending the CRC recommendation related to term expiration and filling vacant Council positions forward to the voters and not sending any Charter amendments forward related to tax increment financing. Further information and discussion was requested for the CRC recommendations related to utility rates and recall elections. During its meeting of January 4, 2022, Council reached consensus to send forward the CRC recommendations related to recall elections and identified language to send forward related to utility rates as well as changes to the reapportionment process to enable the committee to be responsive to revised precinct boundaries.

DISCUSSION:

Council reviewed the final ballot language during its Study Session on May 3, 2022 and gave additional recommendation to add previously prepared Charter amendments related to the creation of a City Auditor position to the ballot. The ordinance language has been amended to reflect this direction.

Ordinance O-2122-46 calls the Special Election for voter consideration of the Charter amendments and sets forth 9 propositions that will appear on the ballot.

RECOMMENDATION:

If Ordinances O-2122-45 and O-2122-46 are adopted on Second and Final Reading on May 26, 2022, an election will be set on August 22, 2022 for voter consideration of nine propositions.
