Hello!

I'm the curator of exhibits at the Denver International Airport and I'm planning a show that focuses on iconic, statewide (Colorado) winter festivals and I'd love to include Palmer Lake's Winterfest in the lineup! Do you think you'd like to participate? If so, I would need contact information for someone (or more) who could get me event and town info (text copy), photo files, and objects to display.

The exhibit, "Colorado Winter Festivals" is slated for this October through March 2022 or so. The location is on the north bridge on Level 6 that heads towards a small TSA checkpoint – it's official name is Ansbacher Hall. We normally have 30 display cases in the area but recently reduced the number to half due to construction and the need for more space for the steady increase in travelers. My hope is to dedicate an entire display case to each represented festival.

Thank you for your time and help with getting me connected to whomever can be of help! Once I secure all of the participating orgs/cities/towns, I will be able to provide more information.

Best,

Jennifer
