UNCC Project Break Down

Reached out to local graphic designers for a price point for a new logo redesign

One designer offered to have the graphic design course she taught at UNCC provide options and make it their project for the semester

Chris, Ryan, and I saw 13 different logos from students and chose our top 3

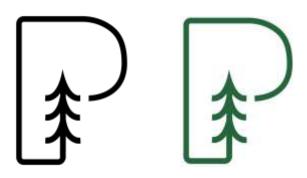

From those three, we reduced it down to 2 logos

We paid for each graphic designer to make tweaks to the finals you are about to see
