I do think that a portion of the back "fields" can be partitioned for dogs, etc. I am concerned regarding "sacrificing" the back parking area unless an option exists should that be converted and planted. I have no idea if .25 acres would be enough in view of current utilization... maybe .4 acres? Again, would need to see such a proposal.

Clearly, there is potential for "exposure" to waste for anyone using areas currently shared by dogs IF there is not sufficient clean up.

Thanks
