

Electrical Aggregation

Electric Aggregation allows a municipality to consolidate the electrical energy consumption of residential and small commercial retail customers within their communities and leverage that demand to seek bids from alternative electric suppliers (instead of ComEd to purchase electricity in bulk at lower rates.

On November 6, 2012, the residents of the Village of Roscoe voted to approve a referendum authorizing the Village to arrange for an "opt-out" electricity aggregation program. Under an "opt-out" electricity aggregation program, ComEd remains as the distributor of electricity in the Village. The selected alternative supplier generates the electricity provided and delivers it to ComEd for distribution. Customers continue to receive electricity bills from ComEd and ComEd remains responsible for all distribution system issues, including outages and equipment maintenance. Eligible residents are automatically enrolled in the program unless they choose to "opt-out".

Municipal Aggregation programs are optional and can also be terminated by a resident at any time for no penalty.

The Village of Roscoe electrical aggregation program will be renewing a new contract beginning in Sept 2024. The program will have a fixed all in rate of $.0779/kWh from Sept 2024 through Sept 2026 with the chosen supplier, MC2. Residents will begin receiving letters about the program around July 9th. Anyone currently on the Roscoe aggregation program or who has ComEd as their supplier, will receive an opt out letter. If you wish to participate in the program no action is needed. Your account will automatically begin the program in September. Residents that are currently enrolled with another supplier other than the Village of Roscoe's program, on the ComEd Hourly program, or are on Net Metering program will receive an opt-in letter. Anyone not wanting to participate in the aggregation program, and instead to use ComEd as their electrical supplier, must opt out by July 30, 2024.

Residents may also be contacted by misleading telephone solicitors asking for enrollment confirmation information regarding a Village sponsored electric aggregation plan or other personal account information. No solicitor is authorized to contact residents on behalf of the Village, and residents should be wary of claims from a caller saying that they represent the Village or are confirming enrollment in a Village program.
