Dear Residents of San Juan County, Utah,

San Juan County is developing a Housing Needs Assessment Report. This study will assist to assess the housing needs of residents of San Juan County, including gaps in availability and affordability for the specific communities within the County. Specifically, the report will focus on the gaps in housing availability and affordability in the communities within San Juan County.

The county selected Points Consulting, an economic analysis firm located in Moscow, Idaho, to facilitate this study. Research and development of this study will require engagements with local community and tribal members. This letter is intended to provide an introduction to Points Consulting and promote tribal leaders to help their team connect to various members to obtain an array of perspectives on housing needs.

Thank you for your interest and participation. The following people may be in contact with you and if you would like to contact them, please call or email using the information below:
