Re: Request for waiver of conflict

Dear Attorney Adams:

Other partners in my firm, von Briesen & Roper, s.c. (sometimes referred to herein as "we"), have been asked to represent Rogers Behavioral Health on potential property tax matters (the "Scope of Work") related to property located in the City of Sheboygan (the "City"). As we discussed, our firm also assists the City of Sheboygan on other unrelated matters.

Pursuant to this letter, we ask that the City consent to waive this potential conflict of interest before my partners commence any work on the Scope of Work.

Under Wisconsin Supreme Court Rule 20:1.7, if there is a potential for a conflict of interest, we may only represent both clients if: (1) we reasonably believe that we can provide competent and diligent representation to each affected client; (2) the representation of each client is unrelated; (3) the representation of both clients is not prohibited by law; and (4) each client gives informed consent to the representation, in writing.

We would like to continue performing services for the City. We must obtain informed client consent where the representation of a client would be adverse to another client, even if the representations are with respect to unrelated matters. The primary reason for obtaining this client consent is that no client should need to be concerned that its attorneys may have divided loyalties or that confidential information might be used against it. In asking for this consent, we assure you that we will not use any of your information delivered to us against you. In addition, we do not believe there is any material risk that my partners' representation of Rogers Behavioral Health with respect to the Scope of Work will adversely affect our representation of the City.
