Dear business operators, nonprofit leaders and stakeholders:

Effective January 1, 2020, the City has adopted parts of the state's new wage theft law, providing another avenue for recovery of unpaid wages. The City's wage theft ordinance additionally requires employers in Minneapolis to provide sick and safe time accrual and use balances on all earnings statements, and distribute an employee notice poster to all new hires.

As Director of the Minneapolis Department of Civil Rights, I am writing to help ensure you are fully aware of this important workplace regulation affecting businesses across the city. A template prehire notice, FAQs, notice posters and resources are available at minneapolismn.gov/laborenforcement.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to email us at wagetheft@minneapolismn.gov or call Minneapolis 311. Proactive consultations will not lead to enforcement action. We are here to help!

Apart from the Civil Rights Department's Labor Standards staff, the City's Small Business Team and Business Technical Assistance Program (BTAP) can answer questions and guide you toward information and assistance to help grow your business. Find out more at business.minneapolismn.gov or contact the Small Business Team directly at (612) 673-2499 or smallBusiness@minneapolismn.gov.

We all want to make it as easy as possible to understand what is required. Enclosed is a copy of the employee notice poster required for display and distribution to new hires. Please feel free to contact us or download copies (minneapolismn.gov/laborenforcement) when you need more.

Under the ordinance and existing state law (dli.mn.gov/wagetheft), employers must:

- Provide employees (and collect their signatures) with written pre-hire notices of certain employment terms (a template is available at minneapolismn.gov/laborenforcement);
- Adhere to a regularly scheduled payday; and
- Provide earnings statements at the end of each pay period.

The wage theft ordinance complements the City's minimum wage and sick and safe time ordinances.

Kind regards,

Water Carbon
