

Peter Lindstrom

District 10

Peter Lindstrom is an accessible, responsive leader with nearly two decades of public service experience as mayor and council member of Falcon Heights. He helps build strong communities through his work with the Roseville Area Schools Foundation, Lions Club, and Northeast Youth and Family Services, while demonstrating an ability to empower all members of the community.

Lindstrom brings his passion for sustainable community development to his role on the University of Minnesota's Clean Energy Resource Teams, where he champions energy efficiency and renewable solutions. His work with the Minnesota GreenStep Cities program underscores his commitment to help cities create a more sustainable future. Lindstrom holds a master's degree in public administration from Hamline University and a bachelor's degree in government from St. John's University. He and his wife are the parents of two children.
