Dear Members of the Zoning Commission,

I am writing to express my concern regarding our community's zone change from HC-2 to HC-3. This change has raised several issues that you should be carefully reconsidered before making final decisions.

First and foremost, I am deeply concerned about the potential increase in traffic and its impact on our neighborhood. The additional traffic resulting from the zone change could lead to congestion and safety hazards, especially considering the well-being of the area's children. Furthermore, I am worried about the potential flooding and its implications for our community. As a resident, I value the quality of life for our area's children and believe these changes could have a detrimental effect. Moreover, I am apprehensive about the potential impact on property values. The proposed zone change could negatively affect property values in the area, which is a significant concern for all homeowners in our community.

One of the main issues I would like to highlight is the potential uses allowed in the HC-3 zone, especially considering its proximity to a residential area. While I understand that the intent may not be to permit specific uses, intentions can change. I am worried that future property owners could have different intentions, leading to unwanted neighborhood developments. For instance, the allowance of a large entertainment venue with live performances could significantly disrupt the tranquility of our residential area.

Another primary concern is the potential size of the buildings allowed in the HC-3 zone. Allowing buildings of up to 250,000 square feet in a residential neighborhood is unacceptable and could drastically alter the character of our community.

I firmly believe that the zoning regulations were put in place for a reason, and I urge the Zoning Commission to carefully reconsider this proposed zone change considering my concerns. Please consider the well-being of our community and the potential long-term impacts on our neighborhood.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. Please reconsider your determination with the concerns above in mind.

Sincerely,

Ronald Landeche

Both zoning classifications have an allowable 50% maximum lot coverage by all principal and accessory buildings as well as requiring transitional yards for properties abutting residentially-zoned areas that is equivalent to the side setback of said residential zoning, as well as providing an 8' opaque fence for screening. Any new development will be subject to parish parking, landscaping and drainage requirements.

11. Per the petitioner's application, the reason for the request is to develop the site for mixed-use.

Consistency with New Directions 2040

Commercial: areas are concentrations of offices, retailers, services, and other employers that generate varying levels of traffic. They range from small clusters of neighborhood-serving uses such as personal care and convenience goods, to large-scale retail centers that employ hundreds and attract thousands of shoppers, to office complexes that employ workers commuting from around Southeast Louisiana and Mississippi. Higher density housing, such as garden apartments and condominiums, may also be located amid Commercial Areas with appropriate buffering to protect resident safety and health. Commercial use intensities correspond to the capacity of infrastructure available to support it.

Residential: Medium-Intensity: Medium Intensity neighborhoods include a broader mix of large and small lots but remain predominantly, single-family detached homes. Attached homes such as townhomes and 2-unit homes, as well as assisted living centers may fit into the character of Medium Intensity Residential Neighborhoods. The higher density of development makes central water and sewer more practical than on-site water and wastewater systems, and infrastructure like sidewalks, subsurface drainage, and street lighting are more common. These areas are appropriate buffers between Rural or Low Intensity Residential Neighborhoods and High Intensity Residential Neighborhoods or Commercial and Institutional areas.

The proposed zoning change is consistent with the following goals, policies, and strategies of the Comprehensive Plan:

- i. Goal 5.1: The Parish will designate adequate land served by supportive infrastructure for use by businesses and industries seeking to begin or expand.
- ii. Goal 5.2: St. Tammany Parish will attract and grow businesses that expand the Parish's tax base and provide living wage jobs to residents of varying skill levels.
