The Prevailing Winds (TPW) is a nonprofit community wind ensemble dedicated to enriching Tomball's cultural landscape through dynamic, accessible musical performances. Our free concert series showcases the power of live instrumental music to build community, attract visitors, and elevate the city as a vibrant destination for the arts. These concerts are designed not only to entertain but also to promote Tomball and can support the local hotel and hospitality industry by drawing audiences from across the region. TPW's performance calendar includes between four to six concerts annually, each tailored to highlight different musical styles and seasonal themes. In the fall, our pops style concert features familiar and family-friendly selections from film, television, and Broadway—perfect for drawing a wide audience, including first-time concertgoers and out-of-town guests. Our Christmas Concert, typically held in early December, celebrates the holiday season with a joyful mix of classical holiday works, popular carols, and new seasonal arrangements, helping to attract festive tourism to Tomball during the winter shopping and travel season. TPW presents what we call our "Big Kid Concert," a musically ambitious program showcasing challenging works by contemporary and classic composers. In May, we host a Memorial Day Concert, honoring those who served with patriotic selections and solemn tributes, drawing civic-minded attendees and veterans from across Texas. Finally, our summer July 4th Concert, compliments and leads seamlessly into Tomball's celebration. And, this past year, TPW collaborated with the Lone Star College music department in their production of "Hello, Dolly" to provide a live band during three nights of four total performances. This was the first time many of the college students had performed with live musicians. Twenty musicians donated over 40 hours of rehearsal and performance time each for the musical. TPW concerts are free and open to the public, reducing barriers to arts participation and encouraging regional visitors to stay, dine, and shop locally. Many of our volunteer musicians are Tomball residents with out of town family and friends to attend concerts. TPW also distributes print fliers and utilizes social media to advertise concerts.
