Hi Debbie,

Per our conversation, we would prefer to build in several options-to-extend, which can be in increments of 90 days. The goal, of course, is to satisfy TRA that progress is being made, possibly get TRA some option revenue, and satisfy the developer that he has enough time to perform. The other option we'd like to explore is simply purchasing the property. Obviously we feel really committed to this and any deviation from the plan costs lots of time and money

Best to you,
